

Careers in Education I, II

This course meets UC/CSU requirements for College Prep Elective (g) credit. Advanced College Credits: This course participates in an articulation with Chabot College. Education is a "hot" career for the new millennium. A critical need for pre-school, elementary and secondary teachers exists throughout California. This course offers an introduction to occupations in childcare, elementary and middle school teaching. Instruction will cover child growth and development, teaching strategies, age-appropriate activities, aids and equipment. On-the-job training at a childcare facility, pre-schools or elementary school sites will be an integral part of the program. Students participate in an internship and assume a variety of teaching responsibilities during this training period.
